A REMARKABLE WHITE WOMAN.

Living on the farm of Mrs. R. C. Nunnally, in Fayette county, is a woman who has a husband and six children. Last fall, when the youngest child was one year old, the mother cooked three meals per day for the family milked the cow and walked to and from the field—one mile—and cut fourteen shocks of corn. Later she broke from 80 to 100 pounds of hemp per day. In early spring she and a small boy cut 180 acres of corn stalks. She wired the slats and made wire picket fence around the gardens. She makes a first-class hand at setting and stripping tobacco, and has contracted with a neighbor to thin his corn for 20 cents per acre. She is an expert washer and ironer and is hard to excel in housecleaning and putting down carpets. She takes in sewing and dresses her own children for Sunday-school. She is intelligent, quick in action, always cheerful, and while resting a little can go to the piano and play "Nearer My God To Thee, and other selections in a very creditable way.—Georgetown Times.

GIVEN WARNING.

The Seventh Day Adventists who believe, among other things, in the second coming of Christ, and a subsequent end of the world, see proof of their beliefs and Bible prophecies in the recent seismic and volcanic disturbances in South America and the West Indies. Consequently they are preparing, by means of frequent prayer and religious services to meet their Savior and follow Him to heaven, when the world is no more. Daily and nightly services are being held in all their churches; sermons are preached on the subject by the pastors and all members are exhorted to cleanse themselves of sin and prepare to meet their Maker. They believe that the recent calamities are only the beginning of the fulfillment of the Bible prophecy that mountains will level, islands will be submerged, and the earth will tremble before the end, and they claim that the earth will be disintegrated and return to its original chaotic state, and that all life will be destroyed. Many of the sect are making house-to-house canvasses, exhorting every one to read the Bible, pray and repent.

TOO MUCH TO DO.

My wife has too much to do. "Why don't you help her then?" "She is not a woman who can be helped," said the man wearily. "She is so very particular, and worries so over ever trifling bit of dust and dirt. If she could take the range clear out every Saturday, she would be better satisfied than she is." The husband put his finger on the weak spot in some women's housekeeping. They are over-fastidious, and do more than they need; they are ever boastful of their extra nicety, and do not reflect that they are recklessly using up their strength and vitality. When a woman's excellent housekeeping kills her at forty-five, or leaving her alive, transforms her into a nervous wreck, making her a burden to herself and a terror because of ill temper to her family, that sort of housekeeping is a fearful blunder.—Christian Herald.

WORDS OF WISDOM.

If you would know what a dollar is worth, try to borrow one.
When the dog is down, every one is ready to bite him.
A good name is better than a good face.
When fools go to market, peddlers make money.
When industry goes out of the door, poverty comes in at the window.
He who serves well need not be afraid to ask his wages.
He who has four and spends five, has no need of a purse.
He who buys wants a hundred eyes and he who sells need have but one.
A young man idle, an old man needy.
A good paymaster never wants workmen.
Who undertakes many things at once, seldom does anything well.
A good wife and health are a man's best wealth.
One ploughs, another sows—who will reap no one knows.—Central Farmer.

GET BARTLETTE'S CHALLENGE REMEDIES.

If you wish Health, Strength and new lease of life, Bartlette's Kidney and Bladder cure is having a good run. They are fine. I make it right if it's wrong. A. T. Bartlette, Cane Valley.

WHAT IS HOME?

Home is where you can pull of your coat and throw your business to the dogs.

"Home is where a man can be himself, and home is where he can pour out his troubles.

Home has a sympathetic ear and a soothing hand.

Home has a voice of comfort and a "never mind" to help over the hard places.

Home is rest, and home is "different" from everything else in the world.

Home is where a man can be silent and home is where a man can talk—and say what he pleases.

Home is shady and cool and sweet, and home has the soul of a gentle woman within it.

Home is bright and happy and sunny, for it has the woman's smile there too.

Home has a contented cat purring and rubbing against one's legs.

Home has a joyful dog, somewhat anxious at the present moment a he waits without the kitchen door for his supper portion.

Home has a back yard and a garden of spindly but ambitious plants giving forth great promise for the summer time.

Home has a back step on which we can sit and confabulate with our neighbor.

Home has plenty to eat and plenty of time to eat it.

Home has easy chairs, and books, and cold lemonade whenever you want it.

Home is where a man can brag to his heart's content.

Home is where he can hide himself when he feels the miserable smallness of him.

Home has a laugh for the cheerful and a tear for the disconsolate.

Home is where a man can cut up occasional monkey-shines without being dubbed a good-natured fool.

Home breeds a man's liberty, his independence, his self-respect.

Home makes men loyal, and it is home that makes patriots.

Home means duty and the love of it. Home is religion, and love, and all that is holy.

Home has no 'boss,' no 'salary,' no 'hours,' no haunting fear of a 'cheaper man' taking your place.

Home is not ashamed of Humbleness, of Honor and Sentiment.

Home is the oasis to which each man turns at the end of a long, dusty day on the blinding, choking, soul-burying sands of 'business,' where he may rest his weary body and moisten his thirsty throat, and leave his thoughts free to dream of better things.

God pity the man who has no home. God pity still more the man who has had a home and lost it."

WHY NOT THE FILIPINOS?

In his message to the Cuban senate President Palma stated: "Together with our own heroism is the attitude of the great people, impelled by their own love of liberty, to put themselves on our side in our tenacious fight for the independence of the country. Their motive was sprung from a generous sentiment, pure and disinterested in its origin. Impelled by this sentiment, the powerful republic of the north recognizes through its illustrious president, the republic of Cuba. The promise formally made has been carried out. In this moment, when we feel our rights as an independent nation, it is impossible to suppress our gratitude to the United States. To recognize this debt of gratitude to the great nation is an act which exalts us and which makes us worthy of the consideration and respect of the other nations of the world." Every time a tribute is paid by the Cubans to the United States, because of the attitude of this government toward the new republic, the American people are reminded of their humiliation with respect to the Philippines. Would it not be gratifying to the American people if the Philippines could pay us the tribute which the Cubans do at this time?

A young woman in New York was sentenced to sixty days in jail for flirting with another woman's husband. And every married woman in the country who reads this item will probably say: "Served her right."

Some people can never see "the hand of God in it" unless they also see a chance to make money out of it.

THE BRIGHT FACE.

There is nothing that conduces more to the happiness of the home than to find a bright, sunny face looking into ours as we enter the door. If the light of love shines, it lightens the load and brightens up the outlook. The bright, sunny face in the home is a power for good that cannot be estimated. There is nothing like the cheerful, happy frame of mind which it helps to bring about. So, dear ones of the household, wear happy, sunny faces and see what wonders they will work when there are fretting, anxious cares and uncomfortable people about to deal with.

MR. BRYAN IN COMMONER.

The Kansas democrats have also endorsed the Kansas City platform.

The beef trust got an injunction; it also continues to get the money.

There is also a criminal clause in the Sherman anti-trust law, Mr. Knox.

There is Captain Freeman of the British ship Koddam. Another heroic figure on the bridge.

Would the same amount of evidence convince Mr. Knox that there is such a thing as a steel trust?

On Memorial Day the president devoted one word to dead soldiers and sixteen words to live democrats.

Doubtless Mr. Lodge will score Mr. Hoar's speech in the "too hot, too handle" column and let it go at that.

Speaker Henderson might try the water cure on those republican insurgents in the congressional jungles.

Of course Mr. Reid had no desire to officiate as a "special representative" at the inauguration of such a commonplace official as the president of a republic.

President Roosevelt's friends will not point with pride to his recent Memorial Day speech. It was a little more partisan (if possible) than his stump speeches.

In the gubernatorial race the prospects are for a full field of splendid entries, not less than six and probably a half score. Gov. Beckham will doubtless be a candidate in the State at large, upon an official record such as no candidate has ever brought fresh before the people in a race for a party nomination for the office. Col. E. H. Taylor, of Frankfort, is in the race with a conspicuous political record and an enthusiastic personal following.

Col. Breckinridge, of Danville, it is said, sticks to his belief that he ought to be nominated for Governor in view of his hard luck and yielding temper in the Attorney Generalship affair. Judge Black, of Barbourville, was the first announced candidate in the field. Col. Jno. K. Hendrick, of Paducah, is a candidate. Col. Henry Watterson would accept the nomination but will hardly enter into a "boss-race" to win it.—Somerset Journal.

The Rochester (N. Y.) Herald gives Senator Hoar something to think about when it says: "Senator Hoar addressed the Irish league meeting in Washington the other night on the doctrine of human liberty. The difference between Senator Hoar and a member of the Irish league is that the latter would vote as he talked." It has occurred to a great many people that it is about time for Senator Hoar to break away from the party with whose dominant policy he insists he has no sympathy.

Some of the Republican politicians are deluding themselves with the belief that "the trust issue is dead."

There is certainly vitality enough in some of the trusts, and it will be cause for wonder if the "issue" don't show considerable animation before the approaching Congressional elections are ended.

In spite of the general prosperity which exists throughout the country, as reported by the Republican papers, labor strikes continue in one place and another. One trouble is that the wages of the laboring classes, as a rule, do not keep pace with the increased price of the cost of living.

When you hear a Republican boasting of what his party is doing for the people and the country, just ask him about that "full dinner pail," of which they talked so much a year or two ago.

It will be many years ere Filipinos will gladly unveil a statue of an American in the chief city of their islands.
